I. Overview

In March 2021, the Correctional Medical Authority (CMA) conducted an off-site Access to Care Review of Hardee Correctional Institution (HARCI) to determine whether inmates had adequate access to timely physical, dental, and mental health essential health care services during the COVID-19 pandemic. The survey report was distributed on April 20, 2021. Unlike the traditional survey process, the Access to Care Review does not require a corrective action plan or subsequent monitoring. However, a follow-up review may be warranted if access to care issues are identified that if left unaddressed could impact patient health outcomes. A written plan was submitted by HARCI in May 2021 which outlined how the deficiencies identified in the report would be addressed. On September 15, 2021, patient records requested by the CMA and provided by the institution were reviewed to assess the adequacy of the improvements. On February 1, 2022, patient records were requested by the CMA in order to assess the adequacy of improvements on the remaining items.
